Specialists in the field of commercial digital video recording systems and networked CCTV - Closed Circuit Television Camera systems - Surveillance Systems Australia was established and has been servicing the Perth and WA market since 1997. As new digital technologies have rapidly improved and been introduced in recent years, Surveillance Systems Australia have been at the forefront of introducing these new systems and technologies to WA businesses. Having a high level of industry specific technical knowledge, we design and install solutions to suit individual businesses and solve specific problems.

In addition to commercial CCTV, we also provide ...

- Security Alarms and Intrusion detection.
- Integrated Access Control.
- Long range Microwave CCTV and Data transmission systems.
- WiFi networks.
- Multi Apartment Intercom systems.

We provide our clients with purpose specific products and solutions tailored to meet their individual requirements. Our after sales service and backup technical support - an essential part of this industry - is of a high level and provided as expediently as possible.

With the rapid development of digital security cameras and recording systems, as well as significant developments in camera technology like night vision capability, High Definition quality, and IP network connectivity, CCTV systems have become a major tool in the fight against property and personal crime. They are also an important addition to an organisations staff and stock/inventory management program. As a standard most systems now give you the capability to remotely connect and view via the internet both LIVE and RECORDED footage from your mobile phones, pads, laptops etc.

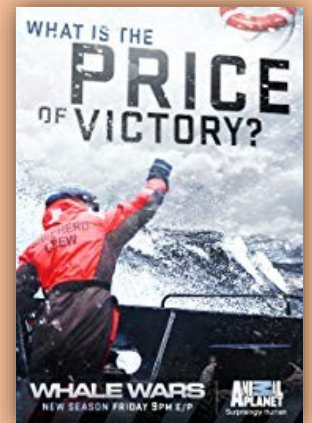

IP network connectivity allow the seamless integration of Access Control, Building Management systems, Intruder Detection etc - into one integrated and seamless monitoring and management system.

Whatever your requirements, Surveillance Systems Australia can provide your business or organisation with a customised solution that will exceed your expectations with quality, functionality and affordability.

Some of our more high profile projects in recent times have included ...

- the design and installation of the CCTV camera system onto the "Sea Shepherd-Steve Irwin" - the marine conservation society ship that patrols the Southern Ocean around Antarctica harassing the Japanese Whaling Fleet each southern summer. The system was satellite linked to a recording server in Florida on the mainland USA. Some of the footage shown on the Animal Planet documentary series "Whale Wars" was taken from these cameras.
